ATA 100 contains the reference to the ATA numbering system which is a common referencing standard for commercial aircraft documentation. This commonality permits greater ease of learning and understanding for pilots, aircraft maintenance technicians, and engineers alike. The standard numbering system was published by the Air Transport Association on June 1, 1956.

Although NEF is listed under Chapter 25, it may address items that would fall under other ATA chapters. By definition, NEF items do not affect the safe operation of an aircraft. Due to the wide variance of these items from aircraft to aircraft, a complete list of NEF items is not required to be maintained in the operator's MEL, but in a list or other equivalent method of tracking.
